Everyone knows the ocean plays a major role in Portuguese heritage and Costa Nova is one of these charming seaside villages just waiting to steal your heart away... It's impossible not to be charmed by its fishing culture, the golden beach, and the Instagram-perfect, bright-coloured wooden houses just waiting to welcome you.

Conquering the globe since 2006 and present in over 50 countries, Costa Nova is a Portuguese brand of tableware which embraces the Mediterranean lifestyle in the form of high-quality ceramics. Blending the finest mineral resources, its stoneware pieces are known for their colour and exceptional durability. With pieces hand finished by their own artisans, Costa Nova offers a wide range of products from country-side to more classic collections.

The perfect addition to your table, Lisboa is a collection inspired by Portuguese tiles of the 18th and 19th centuries, enriched by the traditional blue and white colours that create traditional-looking dinnerware. The collection is a reference to the influence azulejos (Portuguese tiles) plays on Portuguese culture. The Lisboa stoneware is coated with vivid reactive glaze, high-fired to create a 'crakled' surface.

The beauty and detail of the Riviera collection will enchant all nature lovers and is a beautiful tribute to nature. Designed by renowned French artist Christian Tortu, this collection introduces contemporary and innovative designs, inspired by the scenery of the French and Italian Riviéras. Tortu captures the sublime features of this region by mixing shapes and colours, and they will amaze you! Let their delicacy of the ceramic leaves and purity of their design invade your home decor...

Get ready to stock up because Costa Nova is opening a new location in Rua Castilho 69, just a few steps from Four Seasons Hotel Ritz Lisbon. Rather than just a store, this is also a professional showroom which offers services such as wedding registry, customizing orders and home delivery. The promise is to have workshops, show cookings and small events related to the brand's lifestyle.
