

LIKE OTHER BRIDES, STATIONER EUNICE MOYLE WANTED HER BIG DAY TO FEEL LIKE A DREAM. BUT UNLIKE THEIR DREAMS, HERS HAPPENED TO FEATURE A PARADE OF ANIMAL PUPPETS, A VAUDEVILLE-STAGE ALTAR, AND SQUARE DANCING—ALL OF WHICH MADE THEIR WAY INTO HER SURREAL YET SOPHISTICATED CALIFORNIA WEDDING.

Opposite: Eunice made the garlands of pom-poms from coffee filters that she hand-dyed. Servers are dressed in bistro aprons and Russian naval shirts. This page, clockwise from top left: The newlyweds dance to "Dream a Little Dream." On the menu: fried green tomatoes with olive and cherry-tomato relish. The balswood topper, perched on a Tahitian vanilla and mocha buttercream cake, replicates the illustration of the couple from their save-the-date. The seating chart matches names to tables, which are identified by animals instead of numbers. A scrumptious pie bar.
